After shaking off the layers of snow, I've emerged from a wintry WI hibernation to share two exciting pieces of news with you all...

1.) There is a new DVD cover for the film! It is a culmination of many hours of work by some dedicated people (a big thanks to all of that helped!). Hopefully you all like it even half as well as I do. :-)

2.) The second news item ties into the first one because it happens to be the reason for the new cover. The Penny has a distribution contract!! Without going into too much detail, it will be a nationwide DVD release appearing in most major Christian bookstore chains and catalogs along with some mainstream markets as well, including Netflix and Amazon.

In preparation for the official release of the film you may notice we've also stopped selling the Limited Festival Edition DVD. Those of you who weren't able to get your hands on one already won't have that much longer to wait though. The release of the new DVD should be sometime this spring! We'll let you know the exact date as soon as we do.

Thanks so much for all your patience over the past couple of years as you waited for the chance to see The Penny. That wait will soon be over! In the meantime let us know what you think of the new cover design. We'd love to hear from you!
